

Sika Dunyoh Director of Education Programs

As NORD's Director of Education Programs, Sika Dunyoh manages initiatives designed to educate healthcare professionals, patients, and students. Sika has more than 10 years of experience in creating and managing programs for scientific societies and in developing and marketing engaging educational resources for scientific, technical and medical (STM) professionals and researchers.

She is also the founder of Shine Light on Rare Diseases, which is a fundraising initiative she established in memory of her sister, who passed away from complications as a result of relapsing polychondritis in 2008. The goal of Shine Light on Rare Diseases is to highlight the prevalence of rare diseases and to help people with rare diseases receive faster diagnoses to help save and improve the quality and length of their lives.
